Profile

Chartered Public Accountant and Auditor in the private sector for 20 years, I worked thereafter for international organizations (UN, OSCE, European Commission) and NGOs as a public finance management advisor and organizational performance. I also worked as business/strategic coach for entrepreneurs.

In 2012 onwards, I resumed my studies in psychology. Since then, I coach individuals or teams in relation with personal and business development and I teach on-line on UDEMY (leadership, management and personal development) . I am also the author of various books on the subject.
